

Why RCM?

Simple: We teach it better.

Powerful and Practical Training:

RCM Technologies delivers high-value project management coaching, guidance and training to the world's leading organizations and their project managers.

We offer a suite of 25 PMI-aligned courses that give you and your teams a firm grounding in the principles necessary to bring projects in on time and on budget. These off-the-shelf courses can also be customized to incorporate your methodology and templates.

Guaranteed Results

RCM focuses on delivering the training you need. We don't just guarantee that you'll like the training - we guarantee that you will see a measurable improvement in performance.

Focus on Results

Students are able to apply what they learn in our courses immediately. This shortens the time-to-value for our customers and drives measurable performance improvement.

Student Centered Learning

RCM's courses are highly practical and interactive, and encourage active student participation via hands-on exercises, case studies, group presentations, and daily evaluations. We combine teaching our in-depth content with facilitated classroom discussion to provide students with the opportunity to share their unique experiences and knowledge, which ensures maximum absorption of new concepts and techniques.

Professional Certifications

RCM is affiliated with the University of Wisconsin-Madison School of Business. By taking RCM core curriculum courses you earn credits toward a Masters Certificate in Project Management from the University of Wisconsin-Madison's Executive Education Center in the School of Business, which is ranked 15th in the nation and 26th internationally in a 2005 survey by Financial Times of London. RCM also offers a project management curriculum for professionals who do not require university-sponsored certification.

Earn PDUs From PMI

RCM is a Global Registered Education Provider for the Project Management Institute (PMI) and authorized to issue Professional Development Units (PDUs) for credit toward meeting the Continuing Certification Requirements related to PMP certification. All RCM project management courses are aligned with PMI.

Highly Experienced and Certified Project Management Practitioners

Our experienced trainers are Project Management Professionals (PMPs), Earned Value Professionals (EVPs), and Microsoft Certified Trainers (MCTs) with a minimum of 10 years in the project management arena.

True Integration of Best Practices and Tools

RCM is the only provider that integrates Microsoft Project training into every applicable training course, so you leave the classroom with usable knowledge and skill. RCM's practical integration of best practice processes and tools in the curriculum and delivery of every training course shortens the time-to-value of our training programs.
